

The Shore Species Challenge

This trophy is awarded to the member who records the most species caught in a season.

- Size doesn't matter for this challenge
- For the purpose of this challenge the season runs from 14 days after the Millennium Trophy to the same date the next year. All forms are to be returned to the Competition Secretary at the end of the season for assessment.
- For a species to count it must be:
 - Shore-caught in Scotland by a method which would be allowed for a Club record.
 - Authenticated in one of the following ways:
 - Weighed-in at a Club competition or accepted for a record or specimen claim.
 - Witnessed by a Club member or by a non-Club-member who gives his contact details
 - Recorded photographically to the satisfaction of the Comp Sec.
- The Competition Secretary may alter an entry if he thinks a species may have been incorrectly identified or it cannot be checked for authenticity. His decision is final.
- The Club's Committee may decide to refine these rules.
